

Verdi and Puccini The Consummate Voices of Italian Opera

Art Axelrod

The Opera Guild of Rochester

Guild Address:

P.O. Box 92245
Rochester, NY 14692

Guild EMail:

operaguildofrochester@gmail.com

Guild Website:

<http://www.operaguildofrochester.org>

Guild Contacts:

Dr. Agneta Borgstedt, President – (585) 334-2323
Helga Strasser, Trip Coordinator – (585) 586-2274

Consummate Voices

- ◆ Italian Opera may be thought to start with Claudio Monteverdi (1567-1643).
 - L'Orfeo, 1607
- ◆ A continuous development, through the 17th and 18th centuries, and then through Bellini (1801-1835), Donizetti (1797-1848), and Rossini(1792-1868) in the 19th century
- ◆ Then Verdi (1813-1901) and Puccini (1858-1924)
- ◆ When Puccini died in 1924, that continuum came to an end.
 - In 20th century, all music changed, including Italian Opera.
 - There are still Italian composers writing operas in Italian, but the Monteverdi-Puccini continuum not longer applies.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

3

Verdi and Puccini Compared

- ◆ Verdi:
 - Born 1813; Died 1901
 - An archetypical 19th Century voice
 - ◆ Early operas patterned after Rossini and Donizetti
 - ◆ Later operas developed and refined that style
 - ◆ Only Falstaff (last opera) breaks with the tradition
 - Traditional 19th Century Romantic plots:
 - ◆ Characters larger than life
 - ◆ Extravagant melodramas

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

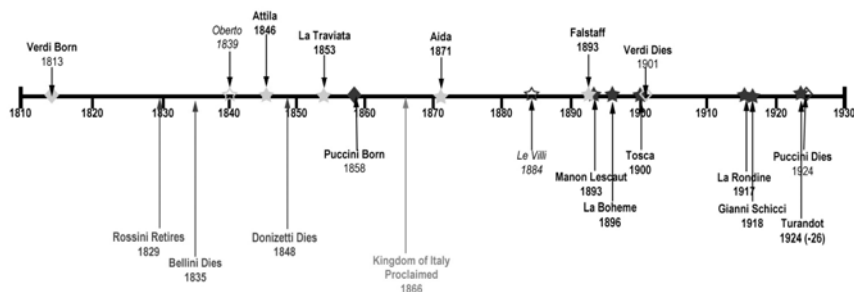

4

Verdi and Puccini Compared -2

◆Puccini:

- Born 1858; Died 1924
- A generation after Verdi
- Influenced by northern European music styles.
 - ◆ Lush harmonies
- Plots tend toward “verismo” – everyday characters in mundane (but emotionally wrought) situations.

VERDI AND PUCCINI

Compare and Contrast

	Verdi	Puccini
Patriotism & Nationalism	A major theme. Often overshadow individual stories	Mostly absent. When present, only to show character.
Parent-Child Relationship	Very important. Often drive plot.	Rarely presented.
Plot Structure	Epic and larger than life.	Everyday situations. "Versimo".

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

7

Compare and Contrast (cont.)

	Verdi	Puccini
Moral & Ethical Dilemmas	Central to plot.	Largely absent. Dilemmas are personal.
Love Relationships	Heroic.	Ordinary (though intense).
Fate	Often unpredicable and "cosmic". Almost an Entity itself	Dramatic conclusions are emotionally driven.
Number of Operas	30 (counting major rewrites)	10 (not counting minor revisions)

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

8

Our Examples

1. Parent and Child
 - ◆ Verdi: "Di Provenza il mar" from La traviata
 - ◆ Puccini: "O mi babbino caro" from Gianni Schicchi
2. Patriotism
 - ◆ Verdi: "We Italian women" from Attila
 - ◆ Puccini: "Vittoria! Vittoria!" from Tosca
3. The Heroine's Lament
 - ◆ Verdi: "O patria mia" from Aida
 - ◆ Puccini: "Vissi d'arte" from Tosca
4. The Tenor's Love Song
 - ◆ Verdi: "Celeste Aida" from Aida
 - ◆ Puccini: "Che gelida manina!" from La Boheme
5. The Party
 - ◆ Verdi: "Libiam!" from La traviata
 - ◆ Puccini: "Doretta's Dream" from La rondine
6. The Maestro's Last Words
 - ◆ Verdi: "Tutto nel mondo è burla" from Falstaff
 - ◆ Puccini: "Tu che di gel sei cinta" from Turandot

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

9

Parent and Child

"O mio babbino caro" from Puccini's Gianni Schicchi

Cecilia Gasdia, (s), Laretta – 1983

Orchestra of La Scala, Milan, Gianandrea
Gavazzeni, cond.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

10

Gianni Schicchi

Puccini

Libretto by Giovacchini Forzano after Canto XXX, Dante's Inferno

First Performance, 1918, Metropolitan Opera, NYC

A Notary, Gianni Schicchi, commits perjury to confound a dead man's avaricious relatives and advance his daughter's love affair.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

11

"O mio babbino caro"

Gianni Schicchi

Schicchi's daughter, Lauretta, pleads with her daddy to please let her marry her beloved Rinuccio.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

12

Parent and Child
“Di Provenza il mar”
from Verdi’s La Traviata

Renato Bruson, (b), M. Germont– 2006
(Rolando Villazon (t), Alfredo)

Los Angeles Orchestra, James Conlon, cond. Director, dir.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

13

La Traviata
Verdi

Libretto by Francesco Maria Piave after *La
dame aux camélias* by Alexandre
Dumas, fils, 1852

First Performance, 1853, Venice

Love between middle-class Alfredo and the doomed courtesan, Violetta

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

14

"Di Provenza il mar "

La Traviata

Alfredo's father, Giorgio Germont, tries to convince his son to come home to their estate in Provence

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

15

Patriotism

"Vittoria! Vittoria!" from Puccini's Tosca

Marcello Álvarez (t), Cavaradossi;
Fiorenza Cedolins (s), Tosca; Ruggero
Raimondi (br), Scarpia

2006

Orchestra of the Arena di Verona, Daniel
Oren, cond.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

16

Tosca

Puccini

Libretto by Giuseppe Giacosa and Luigi Illica after La Tosca by Victorien Sardou (1887)

First Performance, 1900, Rome

The struggle between the lovers, Mario Cavaradossi, painter and Italian Patriot, and Floria Tosca, Opera singer, against the evil Chief of Police, Baron Scarpia

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

17

"Vittoria! Vittoria! "

Tosca

Mario Cavaradossi is tortured by Scarpia's minions while Tosca listens helplessly.

He is dragged out to Scarpia's office, but the action is interrupted by an announcement that Napoleon has defeated the Austrians at Marengo.

Mario defiantly rejoices.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

18

Patriotism

“We Italian Women...” from Verdi’s Attila

Cheryl Studer (s), Odabella; Samuel
Ramey (b), Attila
1991

Orchestra of Teatro alla Scala, Milan,
Ricardo Muti, cond.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

19

Attila

Verdi

Libretto by Temistocle Solera and Francesco Maria Piave after Attila, König der Hunnen by Zacharias Werner
(1808)

First Performance, 1846, Venice

Semi-mythical account of the invasion of Attila the Hun into Italy, 452 CE.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

20

"We Italian Women..."

Attila

Attila has captured a group of Italian women during his invasion into the Italian Peninsula. Their leader, Odabella, defies him.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

21

The Heroine's Lament

"Vissi d'arte"
from Puccini's *Tosca

Raina Kabaivanska (s), Tosca – 1976

New Philharmonia Orchestra, Bruno Bartoletti, cond.

(Movie Version, Gianfranco De Blasio, dir.)

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

22

Tosca

Verdi

Libretto by Giuseppe Giacosa and Luigi Illica after La Tosca by Victorien Sardou (1887)

First Performance, 1900, Rome

The struggle between the lovers, Mario Cavaradossi, painter and Italian Patriot, and Floria Tosca, Opera singer, against the evil Chief of Police, Baron Scarpia

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

23

"Vissi d'arte"

Tosca

Evil police chief, Baron Scarpia, has captured Cavaradossi and has ordered him executed.

However, he has offered Tosca, Cavaradossi's lover, to free him in return for her sexual favors.

Tosca, in this soliloquy, laments her situation.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

24

The Heroine's Lament

"O patria mia"
from Verdi's *Aida

Aprile Millo (s), Aida – 1989

Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, James
Levine, cond.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

25

Aida

Verdi

Libretto by Antonio Ghislanzoni after a scenario by Auguste Mariette and
Camille du Locle (date)

First Performance, 1871, Cairo

Egypt is at war with Ethiopia. Aida,
Ethiopian princess, has been captured as a slave in Egypt, but falls in love with Radames, Egyptian general.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

26

"O patria mia"

Aida

Aida is torn between her love for her country and her love for the Egyptian general, Radames.

Seated by the banks of the Nile, she laments that she will never see her homeland again.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

27

The Tenor's Love Song

"Che gelida manina! "
from Puccini's La Bohème

Ramón Vargas (t), Rodolfo; Angela
Gheorgiu (s), Mimi
2008

Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, Nicola
Luisotti, cond.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

28

La Bohème

Puccini

Libretto by Giuseppe Giacosa and Luigi Illica after Scènes de la vie bohème by Henry Murger (1845)

First Performance, 1896, Turin

Doomed love affair between the poet Rodolf and the consumptive working girl, Mimi.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

29

“Che gelida manina! ”

La Bohème

Mimi, Rodolfo's upstairs neighbor, has dropped her key and she and Rodolf crawl around in the darkness, looking for it.

Their hands touch and (since this is opera), they instantly fall in love.

Rodolfo remarks on how cold her hand is, and then sings of his love.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

30

The Tenor's Love Song

"Celeste Aida" from Verdi's Aida

Plácido Domingo (t), Radamès – 1991

Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, James
Levine, cond.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

31

Aida

Verdi

Libretto by Antonio Ghislanzoni after a scenario by Auguste Mariette and
Camille du Locle (date)

First Performance, 1871, Cairo

Egypt is at war with Ethiopia. Aida,
Ethiopian princess has been captured as a slave in Egypt, but falls in love with Radames, Egyptian general.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

32

"Celeste Aida"

Aida

Aspiring Egyptian army officer, Radamès, and the Ethiopian slave girl, Aida, are deeply in love. But they can't marry because she is an Ethiopian, therefore an enemy.

Ramfis, the High Priest has informed Radamès that a general has been selected to lead the next campaign against Ethiopia.

Radamès wishes that he were that warrior so that he could be glorious in victory and thus have the power to marry his beloved.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

33

The Party

"Doretta's Dream" from Puccini's La Rondine

Ainhoa Arteta (s), Magda; Richard Troxell (t),
M. Prunier

1998

Washington National Opera Orchestra,
Emmanuel Villaume, cond.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

34

La Rondine

Puccini

Libretto by Giuseppe Adami after German libretto by Willner and Reichert

First Performance, 1917, Monte Carlo

Puccini's "Viennese Operetta": Love affairs between Magda, a courtesan, and a naïve young man, and between Prunier, a poet and Magda's maid.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

35

"Doretta's Dream"

La Rondine

A small, intimate and very elegant party at Magda's home:

One of the guests, M. Prunier, a poet, reads his latest poem about a beautiful young woman, Doretta, who is courted by a king. But he stops before it's over. He confesses that he can't find an ending.

Magda completes the poem in the aria, "Doretta's Beautiful Dream".

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

36

The Party

“Libiam!”

from Verdi’s La Traviata

Roland Villazón (t), Alfredo; Renée
Fleming (s), Violetta
2006

Los Angeles Opera Orchestra, James
Conlon, cond.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

37

La Traviata

Verdi

Libretto by Francesco Maria Piave after *La
dame aux camélias* by Alexandre
Dumas, fils, 1852

First Performance, 1853, Venice

Love between middle-class Alfredo and the doomed courtesan, Violetta

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

38

“Libiam!”

La Traviata

The beautiful courtesan, Violetta, our tragic heroine, had been ill, but has recovered. Her friends hold a gala ball in her honor. Alfredo Germont, who has been in love with her for a year, is called upon to offer a toast. (Baron Douphol, Violetta’s current lover, is not pleased.)

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

39

The Maestro’s Last Words

“Tu che di gel sei cinta”
from Puccini’s *Turandot

Leona Mitchell (s), Liù; Plácido Domingo
(t), Calaf; Paul Plishka (b), Timur
1988

Metropolitan Opera Orchestra and
Chorus, James Levine, cond.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

40

Turandot

Puccini

Libretto by Giuseppe Adami and Renato Simoni
after the play by Carlo Gozzi (1762)

First Performance, 1926, Milan
completed by Franco Alfani

A metaphoric fairy tale: Prince Calàf risks his life to win beautiful, cold Princess Turandot, while his blind father, deposed King Timur and his faithful slave girl, Liù look on.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

41

“Tu che di gel sei cinta ”

Turandot

Prince Calàf has answered the riddles thus winning Turandot's hand. But he offers to release her and forfeit his life if she can discover his name.

Faithful Liù is suspected of knowing the name and is threatened with torture if she does not divulge it.

Rather than yield, after reproaching Turandot's coldness, “you who are girdled in ice”, she snatches a knife from a guard and kills herself, as the crowd looks on in horror.

Timur, the blind King, follows as her body is borne away, to “that night that knows no dawn”.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

42

The Maestro's Last Words

"Tutto nel mundo è burla"
from Verdi's *Falstaff

Paul Plishka (b), Falstaff; et al, – 1993

Metropolitan Opera Orchestra and
Chorus, James Levine, cond.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

43

Falstaff

Verdi

Libretto by Arrigo Boito after The Merry Wives of Windsor and Henry IV, Parts I and II by Shakespeare (1597-8)

First Performance, 1893, Milan

The reprobate Knight, Sir John Falstaff, clumsily attempts to seduce Mistresses Ford and Page.
Mr. Ford tries to prevent his daughter,
Nanetta, from marrying her beloved. All ends happily.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

44

“Tutto nel mundo è burla”

Falstaff

After a hilarious comedy of errors, all the plots are unraveled. Mrs. Ford and Page expose Falstaff, and Nanetta and her beloved Fenton are married, despite Ford's objections.

The all agree they had all been fooled and Falstaff leads the company in a dance in the form of a fugue, singing “everything in the world is a joke”, everyone is a clown, and he who laughs last, laughs best.

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

45

Thank You

And Good Night!

Fall 2014

Opera Guild of Rochester

46

Playlist
Verdi and Puccini:
The Consummate Voices of Italian Opera
Art Axelrod – Fall 2014

Parent and Child

1. “O mio babbino caro” from Gianni Schicchi (2:14)
(Part 3 of Il Trittico)
Puccini
Cecilia Gasdia (s), Lauretta – 1983
Orchestra of La Scala, Milan, Gianandrea Gavazzeni, cond.
Kultur D2037 (2004)
2. “Di Provenza il mar” from La Traviata (4:15)
Verdi
Renato Bruson (br), M. Germont – 2006
Los Angeles Orchestra, James Conlon, cond.
Decca B0010100-9

Patriotism

3. “Vittoria! Vittoria!” from Tosca (2:36)
Puccini
Marcello Alvarez (t), Cavaradossi; Fiorenza Cedolins (s), Tosca; Ruggero Raimondi (br), Scarpia – 19xx
Orchestra of the Arena di Verona, Daniel Oren, cond.
TDK DVBD-OPTOV
4. “We Italian Women...” from Attila (2:34)
Verdi
Cheryl Studer (s), Odabella; Samuel Ramey (b), Attila – 1991
Orchestra of Teatro alla Scala, Milan, Ricardo Muti, cond.
Image Entertainment ID360PUDVD

The Heroine’s Lament

5. “Vissi d’arte” from Tosca (3:31)
Puccini
Raina Kabaivanska (s), Tosca – 1976
(Movie Version, Gianfranco De Blasio, dir.)
New Philharmonia Orchestra, Bruno Bartoletti, cond.
Deutsche Grammophon B0004349-09 (1988)
6. “O patria mia” from Aida (5:36)
Verdi
Aprile Millo (s), Role – 1989
Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, James Levine, cond.
Deutsche Grammophon 440 073 001-9 (1991)

The Tenor's Love Song

7. “Che gelida manina!” from La Bohème (4:44)
Puccini
Ramón Vargas(t), Rodolfo; Angela Gheorgiu (s), Mimi – 2008
Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, Nicola Luisotti, cond.
EMI Classics 50999 2 17417 9 1 (2008)
8. “Celeste Aida” from Aida (4:02)
Verdi
Plácido Domingo (t), Radamès – 1991
Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, James Levine, cond.
Deutsche Grammophon 440 073 001-9 (2000)

The Party

9. Doretta's Dream from La Rondine (5:24)
Puccini
Ainhoa Arteta (s), Magda; Richard Troxell (t), Prunier – 1998
Washington National Opera Orchestra, Emmanuel Villaume, cond.
Decca 074 3335 (2000)
10. “Libiam” from La Traviata (3:01)
Verdi
Roland Villazón (t), Alfredo; Renée Fleming (s), Violetta – 2006
Los Angeles Opera Orchestra, James Conlon, cond.
Decca B0010100-09 (2006)

The Maestros' Last Words

11. “Tu che di gel sei cinta” from Turandot (9:05)
Puccini
Leona Mitchell (s), Liu; Placido Domingo (t), Calaf; Paul Plishka (b), Timur 1988
Metropolitan Opera Orchestra and Chorus, James Levine, cond.
Deutsche Grammophon B0000852-09 (1989)
12. Finale “Tutto nel mundo è burla” from Falstaff (3:05)
Verdi
Paul Plishka (b), Falstaff; et al, – 1993
Metropolitan Opera Orchestra and Chorus, James Levine, cond.
Deutsche Grammophon 00440 073 4532 (1995)

TT = 49:64