

Bad Boys

Villains, Drunkards and Charlatans in Opera

Art Axelrod

The Opera Guild of Rochester

Address:

Opera Guild of Rochester
P.O. Box 92245
Rochester, NY 14692

Guild EMail:

operaguil dofrochester@gmail.com

Opera Guild Website:

www.operaguil dofrochester.org

Guild Contacts:

Dr. Agneta Borgstedt, President – (585) 334-2323
Art Axelrod, Vice President – (585) 377-6133
Helga Strasser, Trip Coordinator – (585) 586-2274

Villains, Drunkards and Charlatans

◆ The Villain:

- Is a force of Evil in the plot
- Is explicitly opposed to the Hero's or Heroine's goals, welfare and life
- Has a relatively un-nuanced morality
 - ◆ He either knows he's bad, is totally selfishly amoral or is a fanatic
- Is generally sung by a low voice: Baritone or Bass
 - ◆ With some notable exceptions
- May express (in the negative) the composers sense of morality.

◆ True Villains are relatively rare in the Operatic Canon

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

3

Villains, Drunkards and Charlatans

◆ Drunkards:

- Not usually bad people – may be the Hero at times
- Ordinarily don't drive the plot
 - ◆ With exceptions
- Character studies
 - ◆ May be comic, poignant or even tragic
- Theatrical color
- Often, a scene of comic relief
- Often get really good arias!

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

4

Villains, Drunkards and Charlatans

◆ Charlatans:

- The “Snake-oil Salesman”
- Unlike villains, amoral but not intrinsically evil
- Frequently comic characters
- May drive the plot by inducing a principal to do something reckless
- Character studies or just theatrical color
- May be comic relief
- Often get really good arias!

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

5

Our Selections this Evening

1. Two Devils:
Mefistopheles from Gounod's Faust and Boito's Mefistofele.
2. Two Human Villains:
Scarpia from Tosca and Iago from Otello
3. Alberich from Wagner's Ring of the Niebelung
If Evil were to triumph . . .
4. Dr. Dulcamara from Donzetti's L'elisir d'amore
The consummate snake-oil salesman
5. Don Basilio from Rossini's Barber of Seville
He might be evil if he weren't so inept . . .

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

6

Our Selections this Evening

7. Falstaff
Verdi's Falstaff on the futility of Honor
8. The Drunken Poet
Hoffman from Offenbach's Tales of Hoffman
9. The Drunken Old Soldier
Varlaam from Mussorgsky's Boris Godunov
10. Drunken Sailors
From Wagner's Flying Dutchman
11. The Wages of Sin
Mozart's evil Don Giovanni meets his fate!

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

7

Two Devils - 1

"Mephistopheles' Serenade" from Gounod's Faust

Bryn Terfel (b), Mephistopheles
2010

Orchestra of the Royal Opera House,
Antonio Pappano, cond.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

8

Faust

Charles Gounod (1828-1893)

Libretto by Jules Barbier and Michel Carré

First Performance, 1859, Paris

Adaption of the Faust legend by Goethe and adapted by Gounod and his librettists.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

9 "Mephistopheles' Serenade"

Gounod's Faust

Faust has seduced and abandoned
Marguerite and is overcome by guilt.
Outside her window, Mephistopheles
ironically sings a serenade, sarcastically warning girls not to give in to their lovers until she "has the ring on her finger".

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

10

Two Devils - 2

"Son io il spirito che nega "
from Boito's Mefistofele

Samuel Ramey (b), Mefistofele
2000

Orchestra of the San Francisco Opera,
Maurizio Arena, cond.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

11

Mefistofele

Arrigo Boito (1842-1918)

Libretto by the composer

First Performance, 1859, Paris

Adaption of the Faust legend as presented by Goethe

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

12

"Son io il spirito che nega "

from Boito's Mefistofele

In Act I, Mephistopheles introduces himself to the aged Faust. He says, "I am the spirit that denies" and explains that he seeks to end God's Creation and return the Universe to Chaos.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

13

Two Human Villains - 1

"Tre sbirri, una carrozza..."

from Puccini's Tosca

Sherril Milnes (br), Scarpia

1976

New Philharmonia Orchestra,
Bruno Bartoletti, cond.

Movie Version directed by Gianfranco De Bosio

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

14

Tosca

Giacomo Puccini (1858 – 1924)

Libretto by the Giuseppe Giacosa and Luigi Illica, based on play, La Tosca by Victorien Sardou (1887)

First Performance, 1900, Rome

A painter, Mario Cavaradossi, and an opera singer, Floria Tosca, battle the evil police chief, Scarpia, during the Austrian occupation of Rome

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

15

“Tre sbirri, una carrozza...”
from Puccini’s Tosca

Set in the cathedral prior to performance of a
Te Deum:

After planting seeds of jealousy into Tosca,
Scarpia sends three agents to follow her, hoping to discover where Cavaradossi is hiding an escaped patriot.

He acknowledges that he’s just as eager to seduce Tosca as he is to capture the escapee.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

16

Two Human Villains - 2
Iago - The Definition of Evil
"Credo in un Dio Crudel"
Iago's Aria From Verdi's Otello

James Morris (br), Iago
1996

Metropolitan Opera Orchestra,
James Levine, cond.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

17

Otello

Giuseppe Verdi (1813-1901)

Libretto by Arrigo Boito after Shakespeare

First Performance, 1887, Milan

Verdi's treatment of the tragedy Othello
by Shakespeare.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

18

"Credo in un Dio Crudel"
Verdi's Otello

In Otello, Verdi is fairly true to Shakespeare's story, but this monologue does not appear in Shakespeare.

Iago justifies his evil by describing how he was created by a cruel God who created evil.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

19

If Evil Were to Triumph...

"Auf wonnigen Höhen" from Wagner's *Das Rheingold

James Morris (b), Wotan; Ekkehard Wlaschina
(b), Alberich; Siegfried Jerusalem (t), Loge
1990

Orchestra of Metropolitan Opera,
James Levine, cond.

Stage Production by Otto Schenk

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

20

Das Rheingold

Richard Wagner (1813-1883)

Libretto by the Composer

First Performance, 1862, Vienna

The prologue to Wagner's epic Ring of the Nibelung, a 4 part cycle.

The evil Nibelung, Alberich, has stolen the Rhinegold. The Gods, led by Wotan, need to get it for themselves.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

21

"Auf wonnigen Höhen"

Wagner's Rheingold

Alberich has stolen the Rhinegold, and by renouncing love, has managed to forge it into a Ring of Power.

Wotan, assisted by Loge, descend into Nibelheim to try to get the Ring away from Alberich.

Wotan asks, "Down here in this gloom, of what use to you is this vast wealth and power?"

Here is Alberich's chilling response.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

22

The Snake-Oil Salesman

“Udite, udite, o rustici” from Donizetti’s *L’Elisir d’Amore

Ildebrando D’Arcangelo (b), Dr.
Dulcamara

2005

Orchestra and Chorus of the Vienna State
Opera, Alfred Eschwé, cond.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

23

L’Elisir d’Amore

Gaetano Donizetti (1797 – 1848)

Libretto by Felice Romani

First Performance, 1832, Milan

A poor, simple young man in an Italian village is in love with a wealthy young woman of the village. A charlatan “doctor” comes through the village selling his “elixirs”. A comedy with a happy ending ensues.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

24

“Udite, udite, o rustici”
from L’Elisir d’Amore

In a rural Italian village, the travelling charlatan, “Doctor” Dulcamara, offers the townspeople his miraculous “elixir”
(which is only red wine).

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

25

The Value of Slander

“La calunnia è un venticello” from Rossini’s *Barber of Seville

Robert Lloyd (b)

1988

Radio Symphony Orchestra Stuttgart,
Gabriele Ferro, cond.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

26

The Barber of Seville

Gioacchino Rossini (1792 – 1868)

Libretto by Cesare Sterbini after the play
by Beaumarchais (1775)

First Performance, 1816, Rome

Dr. Bartolo wants to marry his lovely ward, Rosina, who is in love with handsome, young Count Almaviva.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

27

“La calunnia è un venticello”

The Barber of Seville

Dr. Bartolo wants to get rid of his pesky young rival. His unprincipled adviser,
Don Basilio, suggests that a campaign of slander would be just the thing.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

28

Falstaff on the Futility of Honor

“L'onore! Ladri!” from Verdi's Falstaff

Paul Plishka (bbr)
1993

Orchestra of the Metropolitan Opera,
James Levine, cond.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

29

Falstaff

Giuseppe Verdi (1813 – 1901)

Libretto by Arrigo Boito, after Shakespeare's Merry Wives of Windsor and Henry IV Parts 1 and 2 (1597/8)

First Performance, 1893, La Scala, Milan

Based on Shakespeare, Falstaff, the unprincipled old knight tries to seduce two women but gets his just deserts.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

30

"L'onore! Ladri!"
Verdi's Falstaff

Sir John Falstaff, the disreputable old knight, hatches a scheme to get money by seducing two wives of wealthy merchants of the town. He tries to recruit his two equally disreputable cronies, but they demur, claiming it would be dishonorable.

Here is Falstaff's catechism on honor!

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

31

The Drunken Poet

"Il était une fois à la cour d'Eisenach!" from Offenbach's
*Tales of Hoffman

Plácido Domingo (t)
1981

Orchestra and Chorus of Royal Opera
House, Georges Prêtre, cond.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

32

Tales of Hoffman

Jacques Offenbach (1819 - 1880)

Libretto by Jules Barbier based on a play by Barbier and Michel Carré, based on several tales of ETA Hoffman

First Performance, 1881, Paris

A surreal telling of the amorous tragedies of the poet, Hoffman.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

33

The Story of Kleinzach:

“Il était une fois à la cour d’Eisenach!”
from Tales of Hofmann

The poet, Hofmann, wounded by yet another failed love affair, arrives at the tavern, already drunk. His equally drunken companions urge him to sing a song.

He obliges with a rowdy song about a deformed dwarf named Kleinzach.

But when he notices a portrait of his latest love, he turns it personal, finally asserting that he, himself, is as pitiable as Kleinzach.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

34

A Drunken Old Soldier

"The Siege of Kazan" from Mussorgsky's Boris Godunov

Arthur Eizen (b), Varlaam
1987

Orchestra of The Bolshoi Opera,
Alexander Lazarev, cond.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

35

Boris Godunov

Modest Mussorgsky (1839 – 1881)

Libretto by the Composer after Pushkin

First Performance, 1874, St. Petersburg

The mental breakdown of Tsar Boris and the rise of the Pretender to the throne,
Grigori, the false Dmitri.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

36

"The Siege of Kazan"

Boris Godunov

Our anti-hero protagonist, the novice monk, Grigori, has escaped from the monastery and is trying to get out of Russia. He pauses at an inn on the Lithuanian border.

He meets two other escaped monks, Varlaam and Pimen. Varlaam, drunk, sings a raucous song about his army experiences, when the Russian Army under Ivan the Terrible besieged the Tatar city of Kazan.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

37

Drunken Sailors

"Steuermann, lass die Wacht!" from Wagner's *The Flying Dutchman

Jorma Silvast, Steersman (t)
1989

Orchestra and Chorus of the Savonlinna Opera
Festival, Finland, Leif Segerstam, cond.

Film version filmed at Olavinlinna Castle, Finland

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

38

The Flying Dutchman

Richard Wagner (1813 – 1883)

Libretto by the Composer

First Performance, 1843, Dresden

Based on old North European folk legend, a sea captain has been doomed to sail
the seas forever until he is redeemed by the love of a faithful woman.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

39

“Steuermann, lass die Wacht!”

The Flying Dutchman

A town on the coast of Norway: After battling a violent storm, a ship has made its home port.

The sailors celebrate their homecoming with food and drink. They invite their Steersman
to come join them,

However, their ship is berthed next to the ghostly doomed ship, The Flying Dutchman.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

40

The Wages of Sin . . .

“Don Giovanni, a cenar teco m’invitasti” from Mozart’s Don Giovanni

Bryn Terfel, Don Giovanni (br); Sergei
Koptchak, Commendatore (b); Ferruccio
Furlanetto, Leporello (br)
1989

Orchestra and Chorus of the Metropolitan Opera, James Levine, cond.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

41

Don Giovanni

WA Mozart (1756 – 1791)

Libretto by the Lorenzo da Ponte after
*The Seducer of Seville and the Stone
Guest* by Tirso de Molina (1630)

First Performance, 1787, Prague

Mozart and da Ponte’s treatment of the Spanish morality tale of the rake and lecher, Don Juan.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

42

The Stone Guest - Background

Mozart's Don Giovanni

Before the curtain opens:

The lecherous Don Giovanni, abetted by his reluctant servant, Leporello, makes a career of seducing and sometimes even raping women. He had attempted to rape Donna Anna and when her aging father, The Commendatore, came to her defense, the Don killed him.

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

43

The Stone Guest – Opera's Climax

Mozart's Don Giovanni

The Don and Leporello pass by a stone Statue of the Commendatore. The Don is amused (and Leporello terrified) when the Statue speaks to the Don. The Don invites the Statue to dinner.

The following evening, the Statue arrives at the Don's house. The Statue entreats the Don to repent. The Don refuses, and is dragged down to Hell!

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

44

Thank You

And Good Night!

September 2013

The Opera Guild of Rochester

45

Playlist
Bad Boys:
Villains, Drunkards and Charlatans
Art Axelrod – Spring 2013

The Devil Laughs

1. Mephistopheles' Serenade from Faust (4:01)
Charles Gounod (1828-1893)
Bryn Terfel (b), Mefistofele – 2010
Orchestra of the Royal Opera House, Antonio Pappano, cond.
EMI 50999 6 31611 9

The Devil Whistles

2. “Son io il spirito che nega” from Mefistofele (3:19)
Arrigo Boito (1842-1918)
Samuel Ramey (b), Mefistofele – 2000
Orchestra of the San Francisco Opera, Maurizio Arena, cond.
Kultur B00005NGA8

Scarpia – Banal Evil

3. “Tre sbirri, una carrozza” from Tosca (4:09)
Giacomo Puccini (1858 – 1924)
Sherril Milnes (br), Scarpia – 1976
New Philharmonia Orchestra, Bruno Bartoletti, cond.
Movie Version directed by Gianfranco De Bosio
Deutsche Grammophon B0004349-09

Iago – The Definition of Evil

4. “Credo in un Dio Crudel” from Otello (4:15)
Giuseppe Verdi (1813-1901)
James Morris (br), Iago – 1996
Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, James Levine, cond.
Deutsche Grammophon B0002107-09

Alberich – If Evil Were to Triumph

5. “Auf wonnigen Höhen” from Das Rheingold (3:39)
Richard Wagner (1813-1883)
James Morris (b), Wotan; Ekkehard Wlaschina (b), Alberich; Siegfried Jerusalem (t), Loge – 1990
Stage Production by Otto Schenk
Orchestra of Metropolitan Opera, James Levine, cond.
Kultur B00005NGA8

The Snake-Oil Salesman

6. Dr. Dulcamara's Aria, “Udite, udite, o rustici” from L'Elisir d'Amore (6:23)

Gaetano Donizetti (1797 – 1848)
Ildebrando D'Arcangelo (b), Dr. Dulcamara -- 2005
Orchestra and Chorus of the Vienna State Opera, Alfred Eschwé, cond.
Production by Otto Schenck
Virgin Classics 00946 363352 9 (Video DVD, 2006)

The Value of Slander

7. “La calunnia è un venticello” from Barber of Seville (4:12)
Gioacchino Rossini (1792 – 1868)
Robert Lloyd (b) – 1988
Radio Symphony Orchestra Stuttgart, Gabriele Ferro, cond.
Artthaus Musik 100 091 (Video DVD, 1988)

Falstaff's Catechism on Honor

8. “L'onore! Ladri!” from Falstaff (3:17)
Giuseppe Verdi (1813 - 1901)
Paul Plishka (bbr) – 1993
Orchestra and Chorus of the Metropolitan Opera, James Levine, cond.
Deutsche Grammophon 00440 073 4532 – 2009

A Drunken Poet

9. “Il était une fois à la cour d'Eisenach!” from Le Contes d'Hoffmann (4 :17)
Jacques Offenbach (1819 - 1880)
Plácido Domingo (t) - 1981
Orchestra and Chorus of Royal Opera House, Georges Prêtre, cond.
Kultur D2040 – 1981

A Drunken Old Soldier

10. The Siege of Kazan from Boris Godunov (3:06)
Modest Mussorgsky (1839 - 1881)
Arthur Eizen (b), Varlaam – 1987
Orchestra of The Bolshoi Opera, Alexander Lazarev, cond.
Kultur D2852 (DVD, 1987)

Drunken Sailors

11. “Steuermann, lass die Wacht!” from The Flying Dutchman (8:45)
Richard Wagner (1813 – 1883)
Jorma Silvast, Steersman (t) – 1989
Orchestra and Chorus of the Savonlinna Opera Festival, Finland, Leif Segerstam, cond.
Video version filmed at Olavinlinna Castle, Finland: Ilkka Bäckman, Director
Kultur D2252 (DVD, 1989)

The Wages of Sin . . .

12. “Don Giovanni, a cenar teco m'invitasti” from Don Giovanni (6:25)
WA Mozart (1756 – 1791)
Bryn Terfel, Don Giovanni (br); Sergei Koptchak, Commendatore (b); Ferruccio Furlanetto, Leporello (br) – 2000
Orchestra and Chorus of the Metropolitan Opera, James Levine, cond.
Production by Franco Zeffirelli
Deutsche Grammophon B0004052-09